BAM! Example	29
Week 1: Lost in the Woods	29
This first week the boys get to know each other, learn about the group goals and rules, and face their first challenge together, The Electric Fence.

Week 2: Alligator Swamp	34
This week, boys learn about each other through telling their Sixty-Second Autobiographies, through discussing the importance of controlling impulses, and by facing the perilous Alligator Swamp together.
Week 3: Haunted House	39
This week, the boys learn that it is okay to admit to feeling afraid after facing The Haunted House.
Week 4: Sitting Circle	42
This week, boys reveal more of themselves by way of the family stories and complete a fun, cooperative activity called The Sitting Circle.
Week 5: Willow in the Wind	45
This week, the boys begin to explore the power that teasing has on their behavior, and they take greater physical and emotional risks by way of the Willow in the Wind challenge.
Week 6: Making Lists	48
This week, the boys learn about social influences on male behavior and identity and the consequences that result when boys fail to behave in expected ways.
Week 7: Treasure Hunt	52
This week, the boys embark on a Treasure Hunt where they face physical challenges, appreciate each other for their individual strengths, and identify personal characteristics or preferences that go beyond the typical social expectations for men.
Week 8: Trust Falling	56
This week, the boys face the emotionally and physically risky Trust Fall challenge, realizing a deeper level of trust in other group members.
Week 9: Talking Cards	59
This week, the boys review their experiences in the group, identifying areas of personal growth and considering how lessons learned will apply in the future.
Week 10: Found in the Woods	65
During this Final Adventure, boys celebrate their time in the group and say goodbye to each other. Important male figures in the lives of the boys learn about the BAM! goals and share wishes for the boys in the future.
